POLY'S

"The Fashion Show" will be seen for the last time. This evening's big production, presenting a timely and beautiful revue of everything for milady's toilette, from rising to retiring, has proved a veritable sensation in the city here.

22 living models displayed a fortune in gowns, furs, cloaks, lingerie, boots, hats and other articles of apparel dear to feminine hearts. The fashion creations are the designs of leading modistes of Paris, New York and other fashion centers.

The production is in four scenes and offers a continual thrill of joy to its every spectator. Those who haven't seen "The Fashion Show" should avail themselves of the final opportunity tonight.

Other attractive features of the vaudeville program are: Bernard & Scarth in an original comedy sketch, "The Tale of an Overcoat"; Demarest & Colletti, in a musical novelty; Jack and the Juggler, with his wonder tricks; and the Dunsdin, in a variety act on the wire.

Tom Moore, a favorite of the Poly Players, during his last stock engagement here, is seen in the six-part photodrama, "Dollars and the Woman." This big production, which shows Mr. Moore at his best, is a most interesting filmization of Albert Payson Terhune's novel, "Dollars and Cents."

PLAZA

Triangle pictures, famed alike for the superiority of their themes and the excellence of their photography, are seen at their best at the Plaza this week. For the first half of the week there is a combination of an intensely dramatic five-reeler, "The Stepping Stone," and a seemingly funny travesty, "Fatty and Mabel Adrift."

In each of these the movie fan finds cause for real rejoicing, for the films are far above the ordinary run. The dramatic offering introduced as co-stars, Frank Keenan and Mary Boland, the former one of America's leading character actors, the latter a renowned stage beauty familiar to playgoers as the leading woman of several of John Drew's successes. They are surrounded by the pick of Triangle talent and the pictures are mounted in scenic environment that represents fortune.

The talented Sylvester family gives a capital entertainment of song, comedy and tragedy. The four youngsters are among the most proficient juvenile performers that Bridgeport theatre goers have recently greeted. Sig Franz's troupe of cyclists, with a carload of mechanical effects, keeps the audiences on the alert every instant. Gaston Palmer is out of the ordinary run of juggling entertainers, and Johnson and Crane have a rare combination of charming femininity and mischievous masculinity.

The Footlight Girls, announced for the last half of the week, will be found one of the season's most delightful attractions. The usual crowded houses reflect the general satisfaction with the Plaza programs. The shows begin at 2, 6:30 and 8:30.

EMPIRE

"The Half Million Bribe," the first of the first run Metro masterpieces to be shown at this theatre will be the featured attraction today and tomorrow.

In this Metro masterproduction a thrilling tale of love, adventure and romance is unfolded in the five parts. Hamilton Revelle, the well-known stage star appears in the leading role and the entire production is one that will grip and hold interest throughout.

The latest episode of the greatest of all aerial film series, "Graft," will be shown. This serial has proven itself to be the greatest film serial ever attempted.

Sydney Drew's latest comedy, "The Count of Ten," will also be featured. Mr. Drew's excellent work is well known to photoplaygoers and he is ably assisted by his charming wife and an all-star picked cast.

In conjunction with the three features an all-select program of Universal multiple and single part subjects will be shown rounding out an altogether pleasing and entertaining photoplay program.

Tomorrow's program will be headed
